

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT TOMO LENNOX

Tomo Got straight Ds in second grade (before getting glasses)

His mother and father own a company that makes artificial vocal cords.

He spent several years in the circus.

Tomo, his father and his grandfather wear only bow ties.

His two favorite sports are fencing and tight rope walking.

When he first moved to Minnesota, his only furniture was a 8-foot by 6-foot by 3-foot mainframe computer and an air mattress.

He collects animation cels from 1930s cartoons.

Tomo was Chair of Minnesota Mothers Against Drunk Driving.

His heroes, since childhood, have been Einstein, DaVinci and Edison.

Though most of his income comes from computer services, he has one product on the market, a giant condom costume.

Before having a real family, Tomo made photo Christmas cards with robot daughter named Julie.